Georgia Department of Community Affairs' Downtown Development Resource and Program Guide

This document is a compilation of DCA's resources and programs that can be utilized in downtown development programs across Georgia. Although in no way a complete list of State resources for the redevelopment of downtown areas, this guide is a starting point for local government officials, downtown development authority boards and staff, not-for-profit downtown development entities, developers interested in developing downtown projects, and other individuals or groups interested in investing in Georgia's downtown areas.

The guide lists resources and programs in alphabetical order, and includes a program description, program information, contact information and program categories of how each program or resource can be used.

AMERICORPS  AmeriCorps is a network of national service programs that engage more than 50,000 Americans each year in intensive service to meet critical needs in education, public safety, health, and the environment. AmeriCorps members serve through more than 2,100 nonprofits, public agencies, and faith-based organizations. They tutor and mentor youth, build affordable housing, teach computer skills, clean parks and streams, run after-school programs, and help communities respond to disasters. Created in 1993, AmeriCorps is part of the Corporation for National and Community Service, which also oversees Senior Corps and Learn and Serve America. Together these programs engage more than 2 million Americans of all ages and backgrounds in service each year. The Georgia Commission for Service and Volunteerism (GCSV) administers and manages the AmeriCorps grants in the State of Georgia. Currently, the GCSV administers 19 grants throughout the state to various non-profit organizations, public agencies, faith-based organizations.	Eligible Communities: Eligible agencies wishing to apply must apply for no less than ten (10) AmeriCorps members and must have the capacity to manage the members. The members are required to perform a direct service to the community and may not perform duties that are currently being performed by a paid staff person. Due Dates: The GCSV is accepting applications for AmeriCorp Education Award Only grants. The deadline for submission is Friday, September 12, 2003.	Georgia Department of Community Affairs  60 Executive Park South, NE  Atlanta, Georgia 30329  www.dca.state.ga.us Heather Pritchard  (404) 327-6846  hpritcha@dca.state.ga.us	EDU ENV GS H HC TA $

BOND ALLOCATION PROGRAM Federal tax law allows for tax-exempt government bonds to be issued for certain types of non-governmental (i.e., “private”) activities. The advantage of this type of bond is that it provides lower interest financing for many kinds of projects. The amount of private-activity tax-exempt bonds available each year for all categories is limited. Allocating the use of these bonds is the responsibility of each state government. The bond allocation program could be used to develop downtown rental housing for low and moderate-income people or as a mixed income development with a percentage set aside for low and moderate-income people.	Eligible Applicant: Eligible Activities: Housing, student loans, and manufacturing and exempt facilities. Bonds used for multi-family housing (rental developments) must set aside a portion of the units for low to moderate-income families. Rental developments financed with these bonds are also eligible for state and federal housing credits without having to compete in the annual tax credit application cycle. Total Funding: $628,793,000 Maximum per Project: Match Requirements: Due Dates:	Georgia Department of Community Affairs 60 Executive Park South, N. CAPITAL PROJECT CONSULTANT PROGRAM (CPC) Millions of taxpayer dollars are spent each year in Georgia on capital facility planning and development. DCA’s Capital Projects Consultant (CPC) Program seeks to make the most of these investments by assisting local governments in the complicated process of programming and constructing public facilities and infrastructure. In particular, the program offers guidance in choosing qualified consultants and getting the best and most economical services from design professionals such as architects, engineers and planning consultants.	Eligibility for Assistance: While scheduling priority is given to BHT/MS cities, CPC services are free and available to all Georgia cities and counties. Services Provided: Capital facility needs assessment; information on capital project financing alternatives; assistance in drafting Request for Proposals (RFPs) and Requests for Qualification (RFQs); on-site training sessions for local governments on topics such as establishing fair and legally defensible consultant selection practices; negotiating and consulting fees and risk avoidance during the construction process; slide shows and presentations for organizations interested in these topics.	Capital Project Consultant Program (CPC) Georgia Department of Community Affairs Office of Downtown Development 225 W. COMMUNITY DESIGN CHARRETTES  DCA's Office of Downtown Development, in collaboration with the University of Georgia's College of Environmental Design (CED), offers 'Community Design Charrettes' to a limited number of communities each year. The charrette process is a concentrated effort to address specific design issues in a very short period of time. DCA and SED deploy teams comprised of students, faculty and DCA staff to local communities for two to four days to focus on issues such as street-scapes and corridor management efforts, historic district design improvements and ordinance recommendations and neighborhood small area plans. Charrettes generally involve interviewing citizens and local officials, field surveys, an intensive design period and a final presentation to the community. The final products of a charrette are maps, conceptual drawings and written recommendations.	Eligible Communities: Community Design Charrettes are available to BHT/MS and Urban Georgia Network communities based on assessment of need by the Office of Downtown Development. Interested cities should submit a standard Design Request Form to DCA's Office of Downtown Development. Due to budget constraints, a community may be asked to underwrite some of the local costs: food, lodging, materials, etc.	Georgia Department of Community Affairs  Office of Downtown Development  225 W. COMPREHENSIVE PLANNING  The Office of Coordinated Planning administers Georgia's Comprehensive Planning program. This program encourages on each city and county in the state to prepare and maintain a local Comprehensive Plan that is adopted by the local government to be used as a guide for the overall growth and development of its local jurisdiction. Each local comprehensive plan covers six separate, but interrelated, elements including: economic development, housing, natural and historic resource preservation, community facilities and land use. For each of the six elements the city or county identifies its goals, policies and a future implementation strategy to accomplish its agreed upon objectives. Since downtown development occurs within the context of overall community development, a local government's Comprehensive Plan should be consulted to gain insight into the community's priorities, proposed activities and planned initiatives. Local comprehensive plans must, in accordance with minimum state requirements, be updated every ten years; however, a local plan may be updated at any time the city or county feels that an update is needed to account for changing conditions, community priorities, etc.	To assist local governments in the updating of their Comprehensive Plans, DCA has developed PlanBuilder, a web based set of tools, that provides the vast majority of the data, maps and other resources needed for updating a local plan. PlanBuilder provides 'customized' demographic data and maps for each local government in the state. In addition, the 'knowledge base' portion of PlanBuilder provides the local plan author with the state minimum planning requirements, instructions on how to meet these requirements, and innovations that other cities/counties have undertaken to resolve similar problems/issues in their communities. Once the local Comprehensive Plan update is completed, it will be stored 'on line' for access and use by the local government and other interested parties. As of November, 2002, approximately 70 local Comprehensive Plans are available for viewing at the www.georgiaplanning.com web site that also houses PlanBuilder. Cities and counties interested in preparing their plans on the PlanBuilder site must contact DCA for a password. Individuals just wishing to view local plans do not need a password.	Georgia Department of Community Affairs  60 Executive Park South, N. E. ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAM TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE/WATERFIRST The Office of Environmental Management (OEM) provides technical assistance to Georgia local governments by helping them integrate residential, commercial, and industrial development as part of their natural resources, not building on top of them. OEM is able to assist with reviewing and assessing solid waste management infrastructure and services, providing model Requests for Proposals (RFPs) or model ordinances for litter prevention and enforcement, assisting communities in the development of solid waste management plans or implementing environmental friendly purchasing programs. Through its newest initiative, WaterFirst, OEM is also available to help communities identify and address water resource management and planning issues. The WaterFirst program is a community recognition program that recognizes and rewards communities for going above and beyond water quality regulatory compliance. Communities designated WaterFirst are eligible for an array of incentives, including reduced borrowing rates from the Georgia Environmental Facilities Authority for water related projects	Eligibility All Georgia local governments may request environmental program technical assistance from the Office of Environmental Management (OEM). With the exception of the WaterFirst Program, requests for technical assistance will be met based upon available resources as they are requested. Participation in the WaterFirst Program OEM will annually solicit local governments interested in receiving one-on-one technical assistance. Water resource experts from around the state have volunteered to serve as resource team members to conduct on-site technical and design assistance to participants. After reviewing applications, DCA will annually select communities to participate in the WaterFirst Program. Being Designated a WaterFirst Community All Georgia local governments may complete an application to be considered for designation. HOME RENTAL HOUSING LOAN PROGRAM  The HOME Rental Housing Loan Program provides loans to help develop affordable rental housing. Funded by a portion of Georgia's federal HOME grant, the program offers very low-interest construction-to-permanent loans with flexible repayment terms, usually over 20 years. This program helps lower the loan payments, making reduced rents feasible. Owners agree to keep the property in good condition and rent the HOME-funded units to low-income residents for at least 20 years. This program can be especially helpful in down-town development when a community has a structure that lends itself to adaptive reuse or rehabilitation as rental housing (e.g., old hotels, schools, hospitals, and mills) for moderate income people.	Eligible Activities: Loan funds may be used for rehabilitation and new construction, or adaptive reuse of existing buildings for rental housing. Eligible Applicant: Both for-profit and not-for-profit housing development organizations may apply for this program. Total Funding: $13 million Maximum per Project: $2 Million/Urban $2.8/Rural Match Requirements: None Due Dates: May 15, 2003	Georgia Department of Community Affairs  60 Executive Park South, N. QUALITY GROWTH RESOURCE TEAMS Quality Growth Resource Team visits are co-sponsored by DCA and the Georgia Quality Growth Partnership to assist Georgia's communities with implementing "smart growth" best practices. Each resource team is comprised of volunteers who are experts in key growth, design, and development fields. The teams typically spend a week in the community, working intensively to develop ideas and solutions for improving the community through implementing innovative planning practices and 'smart growth' concepts. Team recommendations are presented to local officials at the end of the visit and a full reports prepared for the community shortly after the visit.	Georgia cities, county's and consolidated local governments are eligible for quality growth resource team visits. To be selected for a resource team visit, a community must demonstrate strong leadership, commitment, and resources to implement smart growth solutions. At least four communities are selected for resource team visits each year, with competition taking place each March 15. The community's costs for hosting a resource team visit are minimal: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Team members are not paid, but meals, accommodations, and hospitality for the visit are typically provided by the community. DCA or other GQGP organizations cover all other expenses, including travel costs of team members.</li> <li>• The community is asked to provide meeting facilities for the visit, including a work space for the team (with phones and copy machine) and locations for a stakeholder input meeting and the final presentation to the public.</li> <li>• In return, the community receives free consultant services from some of the leading planning and growth management experts in the state.</li> </ul>	Georgia Department of Community Affairs 60 Executive Park South, N. REDEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES WEBSITE Georgia offers a wealth of existing buildings that can be rehabilitated to serve new uses. These buildings typically have all utilities and support systems in place and many are eligible for federal and state rehabilitation tax incentives. DCA's Office of Downtown Development maintains a webpage that provide a sampling of available properties around the state. Property listings can be searched by region and contain photos, property descriptions and contact information for interested investors.	Eligible Properties: Properties may be submitted for inclusion by property owners, local governments or local development agencies. Inclusion is at the discretion of the department. Typically the web site features structures or sites that are near a community's central business district, of sufficient scale to accommodate a significant reuse activity and include some historic building features or elements. Of particular interest are vacant community facilities such as old schools, banks, department stores, hotels, hospitals administrative facilities as well as older factories, warehouses and mill sites. However, the primary requirement is that the property be available for sale to prospective investors. Manufactured buildings are usually not included. Update Schedule: Properties may be submitted at any time to the Office of Downtown Development. The web site is updated on an irregular schedule based on demand. The submitting entity is responsible for notifying DCA if the property is sold or becomes unavailable.	Georgia Department of Community Affairs Office of Downtown Development 225 W. ENTITLEMENT AND NON-ENTITLEMENT	Entitlement: Entitlement is the amount of funds an urban city and/or county is entitled to receive annually under the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Entitlement grant program. Entitlement counties are generally those with populations of 200,000 or more. Entitlement cities are cities located in a metropolitan area that have a population of 50,000 or more. Non-Entitlement: Non-entitlement is the amount of funds allocated for use in the State's CDBG non-entitlement program. Non-entitlement governments are generally those governments that do not meet the requirements for the CDBG Entitlement program. Non-entitlement counties have populations under 200,000 and non-entitlement cities have populations under 50,000. Note: Cities with populations less than 50,000 that are located within Entitlement counties have the option of either: 1) participating in the county's Entitlement program or 2) to remaining eligible to apply for CDBG funds under the State's Non-entitlement program.		EDU

TIER SYSTEM  The Georgia Department of Community Affairs (DCA) annually ranks all counties in Georgia based on the following criteria: unemployment, per capita income and poverty. The same criteria are used to select, on a decennial basis, distressed census tracts within Georgia's metropolitan counties. Rankings are usually available in December for the following year. Counties are divided into four tiers, and these tiers are then used in the administration of various programs designed to boost Georgia's development.	The ranking of counties, the resulting tier designations and the listing of distressed census tracts are used in the administration of the following programs and credits: Job Tax Credit; Investment Tax Credit; Ports Activity Credit; Headquarters Tax Credit, and the OneGeorgia Equity Fund and Edge Fund Programs.	Georgia Department of Community Affairs  60 Executive Park South, NE  Atlanta, Georgia 30329-2231 Russell Morrison  (404) 679-4825  rmorriso@dca.state.ga.us	EDU
